2007 Winter League.

Match No. 12

Date: 28th October 2007.

Venue: River Beult, Cross at Hand, Staplehurst, Kent.

Conditions: Cold, damp, wet & very windy conditions that deteriorated as the day went on!
Water level was normal with slight flow, very clear.

Summary: Well it was back to the winter comps! Not the best of days. Basically it rained most of the day. The wind proved to be a problem especially for those with pegs in the first field, a bit like the 'north sea'. Most really struggled to get a bite let alone catch fish! Those lucky to catch did have to go light on the pole fishing tight into the banks, some fishing with a submerged tip to counteract the windy conditions, single red maggot seemed to produce the only fish. Colin lost a good fish just before the finish, probably a Tench, had it on for nearly ten minutes but with 1 lb bottom, no chance!
The only saving grace was that the rain stopped as we packed up!
