2010 Winter League.

Match No. 13

Date: 21st November 2010.

Venue: River Beult, Hunton, Kent.

Conditions:

Cloudy, with a cold NE wind. Showers around mid morning, enough for the brollies to come out. Somewhat 'cool' day; OK if you were tucked down the bank under the broolly. Water level slightly high & coloured with very little flow.

Summary:

A good field for a winter comp. With the water being coloured hopes were high, the results were good when you compare with some of the summer ones on a similar venues, everyone caught except for *one who had to leave early & didn't bother to weigh in. Pole & waggler were the chosen methods although the downstream wind made it awkward, the most productive bait was red maggot or pinkies on a size 20. No ground bait with just a few loose maggots or hemp to bring in the small Roach worked best. Bags consisted of bleak, small roach, & skimmers. Well done to Ralf who worked hard to produce a good weight & win. With the coloured water the pike were not interested, both Kevin & Tony only had a couple of half hearted pickups of their dead baits. Expensive day for some with broken poles! More expense Colin? Alex was thankful that his 4WD came in useful to drive over & pick up his gear after a power failure on his motorised trolley... wonders of modern science! His lucky peg winnings will go towards a new battery!
