Match No. 3

Date: 7th March 2009.

Venue: Staplehurst Reservoir, Kent.

Conditions: A very cold start to the day with temperatures down to -2°C. The day remained sunny with a bitter cold Easterly wind. Water level was high brimming full with 2' visibility.

Summary: Despite the freezing conditions good numbers for the match. To stand any chance of a place it was a case of finding the Carp & Bream or concentrate on bagging up on the Roach. Barry in the R/H corner swim was able to locate a few Carp & win the match despite loosing a few on the light gear, Don next to him managed second with Carp & Roach catch & Ralph in the other corner third with a Bream & Roach bag. Feeder rod was the order of the day with maggots producing the fish. The other competitors had to rely on a few Roach. 4 anglers blanked without even a bite! Despite being a bright sunny day those on the shaded side froze!
